

Ralf Jürgens is the SVP Engineering of Primarine GmbH. He worked for more than 30 years in the Exhaust Gas Cleaning Business and introduced flue gas cleaning processes to power plants and waste incinerators in more than 30 countries. Ralf Jürgens has been involved in the design and commissioning of several municipal waste incinerators, power plants and other combustion processes. He is a regular speaker at marine conferences as well as at conferences concerning Exhaust Gas Cleaning Systems of municipal waste incinerators and hazardous waste incinerators. He holds a Master Degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Delaware.